yPredict.ai platform features & YPRED utility

Decentralized Marketplace

Challenges:

The Signal provider or advisory industry is full of nonprofessionals with no verifiable track record that justifies their signals are overall profitable. This industry relies heavily on a trust-based model fueled by fabricated results of their past performance, and fake testimonials to prove their signal quality, but this comes at a price—your money.

Solution:

ypredict.ai is a trading signal and research marketplace. It allows data analysts, and AI/ML engineers to offer their model predictions as a subscription. Each new model will be verified by DAO members before it is offered on the platform for a subscription. This trial-based model of vetting new models prevents the sale of any poor-quality models.

Subscription Payment

New users require YPRED tokens to access yPredict ecosystem and existing holders are rewarded with 10% of each new subscription via YPRED tokens.

Trading Swap Fee

The inbuilt trading platform will incur a swap fee on every trade, 15% of swap fee will be with YPRED holders through the staking pool.

Staking

Holders can stake YPRED tokens & get rewarded through higher APY from reward allocation.

Play to Earn

Does it feel like you understand the pulse of the market? Make directional bets & earn a share of the YPRED reward pool.

Learn to Earn

The platform offers resources full of educational modules & quizzes, and upon completion of each module & quiz, the platform rewards learners with YPRED tokens.
